

CAMPUS AARHUS

Photojournalism 2 – Advanced Visual Story Telling

OVERVIEW

This advanced photojournalism programme offers you a chance to study in Denmark together with a class of Danish photojournalism students in their last semester. The programme focuses on advanced visual storytelling.

COURSE AIMS

As a result of this semester you can achieve the following

- Learn new ways of using photojournalism
- Learn how to combine theory about photojournalism with practical work
- Work on a project with other photojournalists

The teachers and facilities are great. You are meeting a lot of different people with the same ideas and sharing thoughts! It's an experience that will live with you for your whole life!

Henrik Malmström, Finland

80 refugees have found shelter in the St. Pauli Church in Hamburg for half a year. Zakaria, from Ghana, is Muslim. He and the other Muslim refugees use the church stairs to pray. Photo: Maria Feck former Photojournalism 1 and 2 student.

CAMPUS AARHUS

Photojournalism 2 – Advanced Visual Story Telling

COURSE	CREDITS
Visual project including workshops	15 ECTS
Final project / Bachelor project for Danish students	15 ECTS
TOTAL for one semester full course load	30 ECTS

DURATION: 1 semester

STUDY MODE AND CREDITS: Full-time, 30 ECTS

COURSE START: Mid August or end of January

LEVEL

Advanced undergraduate.

ADMISSION

We offer about 10 places for international students who study together with Danish photojournalism 8th semester students.

HOW TO APPLY

See www.dmjx.dk/international for application form, international partners, study culture and study handbook.

DEADLINE FOR APPLICATION

1 April for fall semesters and 1 October for spring semesters.

FURTHER INFORMATION

www.dmjx.dk/international

The international photojournalism course is an amazing possibility to exchange knowledge, experiences and troubles. A meeting with professionals and a platform to discuss the themes we photojournalists are concerned with. It is very nice to enter a new culture in this way and to widen horizons and networks. A very special experience!

Antonia Zennaro, Italy